I just went into library and sitting next to hunter was your brown leather pouch with a stem in it laying in the chair next to him.

I see how you turn it so I'm to blame for you leaving your shit next to hunt. Really, that is the big thing right now, not my old text and your anger. The kids hunter and being sober and present for them all.

You're right hallie - I won't come home then. I agree on that. You're always right and never have you done a thing wrong. Go tell all your friends and your daughter what an awful person I am. All my being there does is prove your right and does nothing to help me when I need you.
